We're proud to announce our investment in AMI - Advanced Machine Intelligence (AMI), which today closed a $1.03B round to build the next layer of AI: systems that understand the world, reason over time, and act reliably. AMI is developing world models, AI that learns abstract representations of reality, not just patterns in data. This is foundational work, built for the long term.

What makes this particularly meaningful for Alpha Intelligence Capital - two of our advisors are part of the founding team: Yann LeCun, Turing Award laureate and one of the architects of modern AI, and Pascale Fung, pioneer in human-centered AI, serving as Chief Research & Innovation Officer.

They are joined by an exceptional team: Alex LeBrun (CEO), serial AI entrepreneur; Saining Xie (Chief Science Officer), a leading researcher in visual representation learning; Michael Rabbat (VP of World Models), a leading researcher in world models; and Laurent Solly (COO), who brings deep experience in global technology operations.

The founding team reflects exactly the kind of rigorous, long-horizon science-to-industry translation that AIC has been backing since day one.

AMI is global from the start: Paris, New York, Montreal, Singapore. And this is just the beginning.
