🇪🇺 $1B: A new chapter for European AI

We're proud to announce that daphni is participating in the landmark funding round of AMI - Advanced Machine Intelligence, the new AI company founded by Yann LeCun and Alex LeBrun.

Through a significant investment via daphni Blue and our dedicated digital retail fund Dastore (run by Daphni and supported by Carrefour), we join the $1 billion round as the second-largest French institutional investor alongside Cathay Innovation, led by top investors including Greycroft, Hiro Capital, HV Capital, Bezos Expeditions, Eric Schmidt, Temasek, NVIDIA...

Taking part in this operation was a natural step for us, as it marks an important milestone for both the European tech ecosystem and French scientific leadership.

AMI Labs' ambition is bold: move beyond generative AI toward AI capable of true reasoning.

While today's systems largely rely on statistical language models, the next frontier lies in "World Models" – AI systems that learn from video and sensory data, build persistent memory, understand real-world dynamics, and plan complex actions. In short: the transition from AI that predicts to AI that understands and acts.

Supporting AMI Labs reflects our deep conviction: Europe can lead the next wave of breakthrough AI. The company's decision to establish itself in France, while building a global research team across four continents, highlights the strength of the French talent pool and research ecosystem.

We're honored to support Yann, Alexandre, and the entire AMI Labs team in building the next generation of AI.

AMI Labs, $1B to build the next generation of AI world models

Launched by Yann LeCun, former Chief AI Scientist at Meta
& Alex LeBrun, Co-founder of Nabla
